1291 The Swiss Investment Foundation with good results in the Global Real Estate Sustainability Benchmark (GRESB)

1291 The Swiss Investment Foundation achieved a good result in GRESB 2024, the leading global sustainability benchmark for the real estate industry.

After a test phase last year, 1291 The Swiss Investment Foundation achieved a solid result with 3 out of 5 GRESB stars for 2024 in its first year. The GRESB scores of the benchmark show an established ESG performance with 80/100 points, which will be further expanded in the coming years.

“The GRESB result shows that we are on the right track in the area of sustainable real estate management. We create long-term added value for our investors with a successful ESG integration”, says Dieter Marmet, Managing Director.

The Global Real Estate Sustainability Benchmark (GRESB) independently validates and assesses the ESG performance of real estate investment products on a global benchmark.
